PURO

Small Table

PURO

DESCRIPTION

Puro - "pure" in Italian - is a range that really reflects its name: pure in the shape, pure in the materials, pure in the sustainability. This side table reinterprets the sleek bridge shape typical of Armani/Casa: the timeless design is made precious by the contrast between the dark brown ashwood and the beautiful green quartzite from South America. These two materials are applied by using different and irregular rectangular tiles, which give new life to the remnants of wood/stone panels used for larger furniture: with this choice, Armani/Casa follows the efforts of the Armani Group for a continuous commitment in sustainability. Puro is available in two versions, with stone on the inner or the outer side. All corners feature joints at 45°.
